Honoring 100 Years of The Travel Corporation

Dinner date

Our engagement

Their legacy began as a love story over 60 years ago. In the 1950s, Beatrice caught the eye of a young entrepreneur named Stanley, who wore a miniature red carnation flower in his lapel. Later, Beatrice founded Red Carnation Hotels, a renowned collection of award-winning 5 star hotels across the globe. Above is a photo of Bea and Stanley celebrating in a Johannesburg nightclub on the night they got engaged.

Bea on her way to work

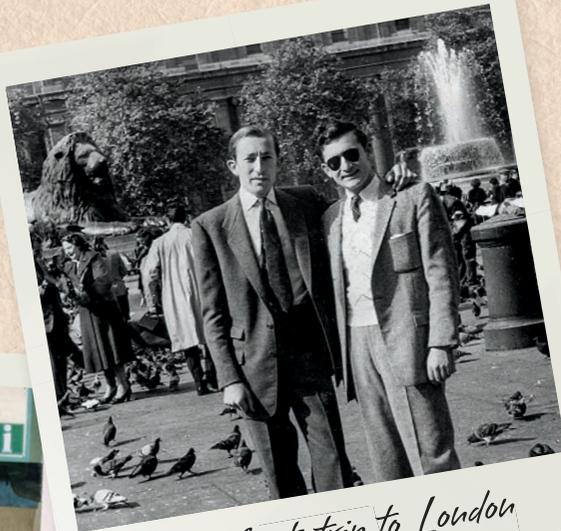

Sohebele Lodge

The family at Sohebele Lodge, one of the first game reserves we created in the 1960s.

As newlyweds, Bea and Stanley purchased their first hotel and launched a lifelong partnership of world-class hospitality and fine dining. They later went on to run the Hyde Park Hotel and opened The Colony which became a famous supper club bringing the first international cabaret stars to South Africa, such as Tom Jones and Petula Clark.

Our family motto is “In pursuit of excellence”

Behind the rich heritage of The Travel Corporation are enduring stories of love, determination and family. Discover how the Tollmans' legacy — which will celebrate 100 years in 2020 — grew from a single South African hotel to a family-run collection of 40 award-winning brands around the globe.

Our first trip to London

In 1955, Stanley and his brother, Arnold, went to London for the first time. Arnold, a dentist by profession, later opened the first Trafalgar office in New York and his son, Gavin, is now president of Trafalgar.

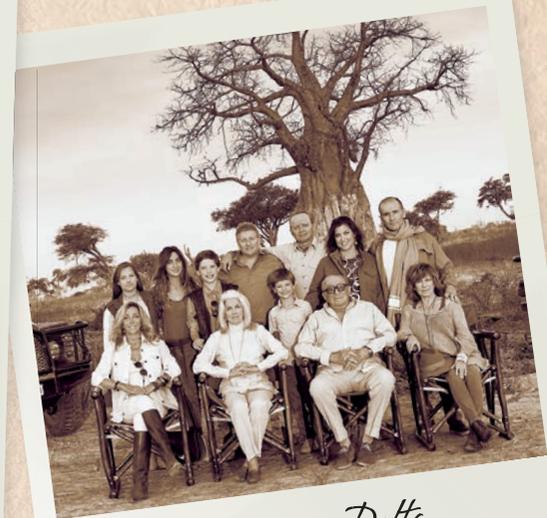

Family visit

Paternoster is where it all began for the Tollman family. After losing everything in the Great Depression, Stanley's father, Solomon Tollman, moved to this fishing village and set up a small hotel. Above is an image of Stanley (who was born in Paternoster), his son Brett, now the CEO of The Travel Corporation, and his granddaughter Ella revisiting their roots in a very special moment.

Oyster Box Hotel

Spending time by the sea is part of the Tollman family heritage. In another homage to the sea, the legendary Oyster Box Hotel, set on the coast of KwaZulu-Natal, is near and dear to their hearts; Stanley and Bea enjoyed an early date here in 1952. They later purchased the property in 2006. The beautiful hotel was totally rebuilt and remains one of Africa's most celebrated hotels.

Okavango Delta

Bea, Stanley and family are enjoying a piece of paradise in Botswana's Okavango Delta. Within this region, The Red Carnation Hotel Collection will welcome the newest member of its family: Xigera Safari Lodge, opening in 2020.

Meet our extended family.

The Travel Corporation, African Travel's parent company, has been creating enriching travel and hospitality experiences for a hundred years. As a fourth-generation family-owned business, we provide a rich tradition of expertise, delivering exceptional hospitality, outstanding quality and superb value no matter which of our companies you choose to travel and stay with. Whether you choose to discover an insider experience with Trafalgar; set sail with Uniworld boutique river cruises, the world's most luxurious river cruise line; stay in some of the world's best hotels with the Red Carnation Hotel collection; or share the gift of travel with your children or grandchildren so they can try one of our amazing, fun youth brands — Contiki, Busabout, U by Uniworld or Shamrock — we are confident that there is an option that fits your lifestyle.

Your Loyalty Is Rewarded

If you are a previous Travel Corporation guest, we would like to offer you a discount or a special value-add on your next safari. #AfricanTravelCares

Sustainable tourism uplifts local communities and supports wildlife conservation in Africa. Our commitment is to leave the destinations better than we found them by reinvesting in Africa to ensure the continent remains vibrant for future generations to enjoy.

The TreadRight Foundation

At African Travel, Inc., we take great pride in creating experiences of a lifetime. Exploring the world and gaining a deeper understanding of each destination helps forge lasting connections to the history, culture and natural elements that makes each special.

As such, we are an active partner and supporter of the not-for-profit TreadRight Foundation's sustainability work and projects. Created as a joint initiative between The Travel Corporation's family of brands, The TreadRight Foundation is a not-for-profit that works to ensure the environment and communities we visit remain vibrant for generations to come. Making Travel Matter

Travel is an incredible gift. It has the ability to open our eyes, our hearts and our minds to the unique cultures and spellbinding beauty of the natural world. But with this gift comes a responsibility — to protect the world as we know it. At African Travel and TreadRight, our mission is clear: To have a positive impact on the people and communities we visit, to help protect wild and marine life, and to care for the planet we all call home.

PEOPLE

We are committed to encouraging the cultures, traditions and arts of the communities we visit to thrive. We seek to enable some of these communities to see true benefits from tourism through economic empowerment. We do this through our support of micro-enterprises, and community based tourism initiatives that build positive futures for community members and their families.

WILDLIFE

The world's wildlife is balancing on a dangerous precipice, so it is our responsibility to help protect some of these species most at risk from extinction. Partnering with leading wildlife organizations, we work to help protect and rehabilitate elephant, rhino and big cat populations around the world, while also educating our guests on ethical wildlife experiences.

PLANET

Reducing the environmental impact of our business is at the core of what we do. We've committed to eliminating all avoidable single-use plastics in both our offices and out on the road by 2022. And that's just the beginning. In 2017, we introduced our e-docs program, which allows our guests to receive their travel documents digitally, replacing the need for paper while also having a tree planted in their name as part of our plant a tree initiative. All of this, while supporting projects striving to keep our oceans and coastlines clean, are just some of the ways we're committing to safeguarding the future of our planet.

Always an Extraordinary Day on Safari

Every day on your safari, extraordinary experiences are sure to unfold. A typical day on safari may be something like this:

Early Morning

The rosy dawn is the perfect time to embark on a morning game drive. After your expert ranger briefs you on the wildlife you can anticipate, grab your camera and binoculars, board your all-wheel-drive safari vehicle and begin your search for the Big Five — lion, leopard, elephant, rhino and buffalo. Soon, you are capturing the photos of a lifetime.

Mid Morning

After all the excitement of watching the animals in their natural habitat, you're sure to have an appetite. Return to your lodge for a hearty breakfast. Dine alfresco and observe the elephants padding down to the nearby waterhole to drink.

Late Morning

Relax and do as you please. Your personal butler and safari lodge staff are at your service, taking care of your every possible need. Dip in the refreshing infinity pool, join a guided bushwalk to learn the secrets of tracking or simply lounge in your hammock, taking in the sounds and scents of the bush.

Early Afternoon

A sumptuous lunch of local specialties and international favorites awaits you. Your world-class chef pairs organic produce with gourmet recipes. Afterwards, perhaps, stroll the lush grounds of your luxurious lodge.

Mid Afternoon

As the animals retreat to the shade, spend a leisurely afternoon of pampering with a rejuvenating spa treatment, or explore the local community. Visit a children's school and the local village, or drop in at a wildlife conservation center to learn how its programs protect the animals as well as create jobs and benefit the people.

Late Afternoon

Now that the day has cooled, rejoin your ranger for a game drive to photograph the wildlife in action. Seek out the stately eland as it forages among the grasses, video the young elephant calves tucked among their mothers' legs and search the shadows as your tracker scouts for the leopard emerging from its siesta.

Early Evening

Listen to the elephants' trumpeting echoing across the savannah as you linger at a panoramic viewpoint sipping sundowners — the safari tradition of serving wine or cocktails as the sun sets. On your drive back to camp, observe in wonder as your ranger spotlights the nocturnal civets and prehistoric-looking anteaters just beginning to stir.

The Evening

In the lantern-lit dining room of your lodge, savor a delicious dinner of Pan-African cuisine and culinary creations to tempt every palate. Raise your glass of South Africa's finest wine and toast your day's adventures.

Late Evening

With a snifter of fine brandy, gather around the campfire and wrap up your evening with storytelling and stargazing. Sink into your luxurious pillows and cool sheets for a rejuvenating night's sleep. Your dreams are sure to be sweet.

We Know
SOUTH AFRICA

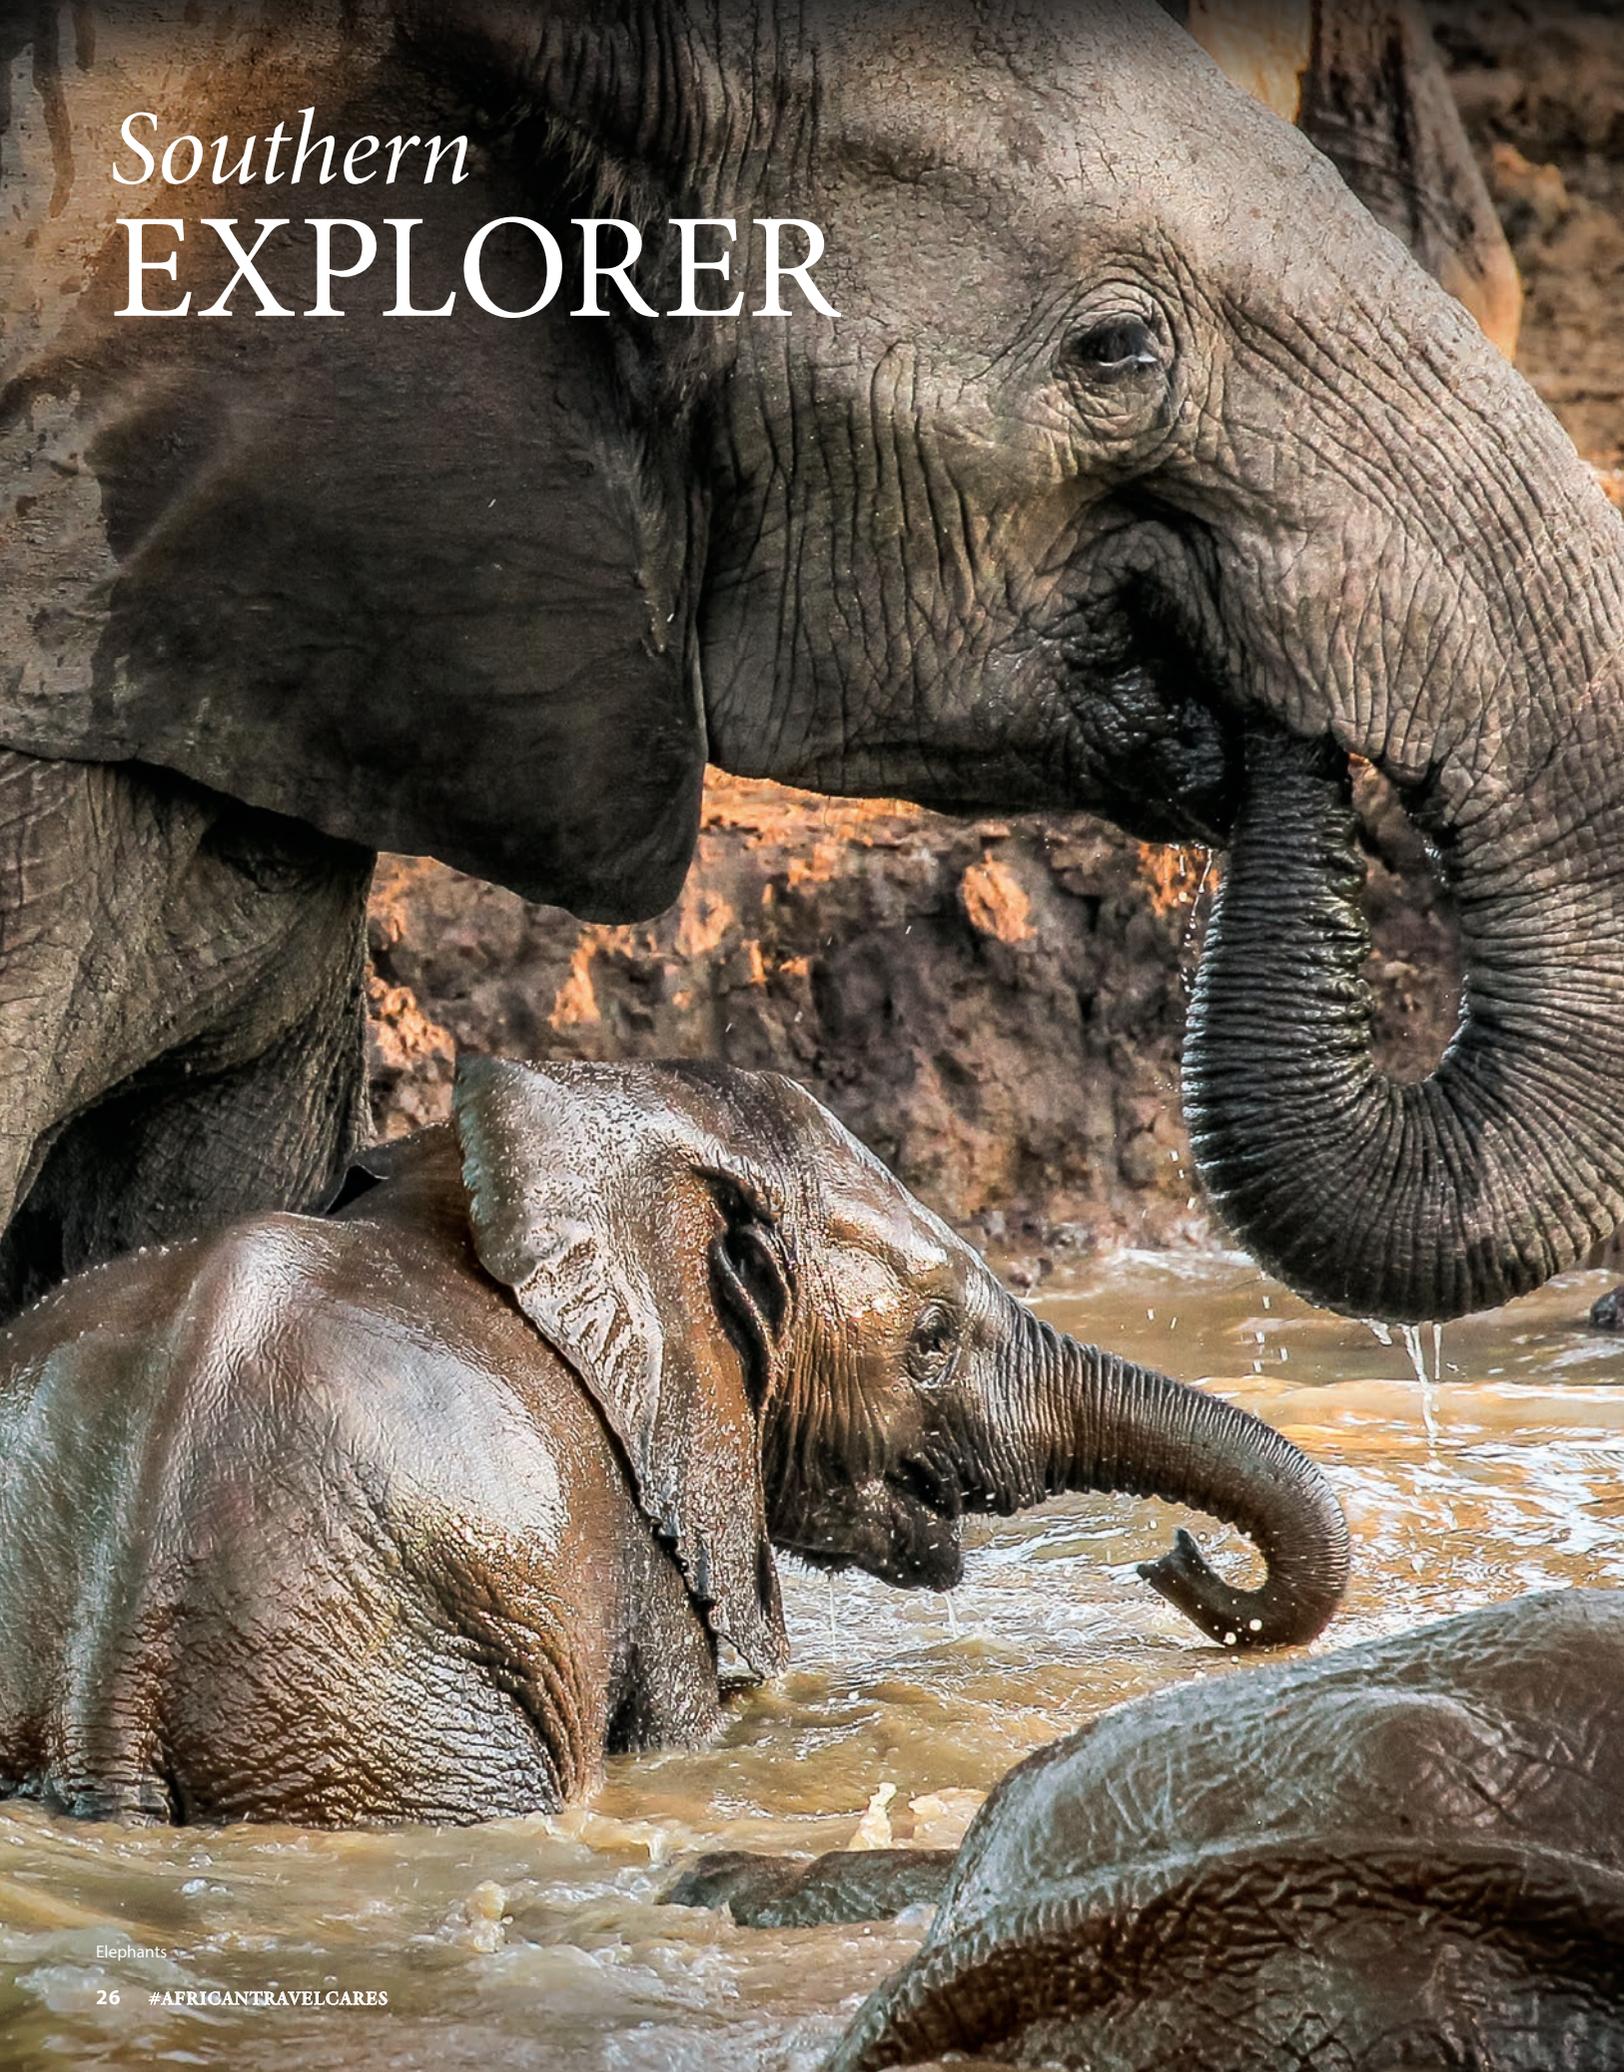

South Africa has it all, whether you're seeking a Big Five safari experience, cosmopolitan cities, a rainbow nation of richly diverse cultures or spectacular scenery! South Africa is like a world in one country — the ideal destination for those looking for variety in their journey to Africa.

Cape Town, voted "Most Beautiful City in the World" by various top media outlets, is a must-see for first-timers to South Africa with its iconic Table Mountain, sweeping ocean views and gastronomic delights.

A quick flight from Johannesburg, Kruger Private Game Reserve boasts some of the most luxurious safari lodging. Guests are known to have spotted the Big Five in one morning in South Africa's most famous reserve.

Bursting with wildlife, easily accessible and malaria-free, several South African game parks rank top for family safaris. Check out the Eastern Cape Game Reserve, Marataba Game Reserve, Madikwe Game Reserve or Pilanesberg National Park.

With an abundance of adventure and cultural activities, magnificent landscapes, a food, wine and art scene that has gained international recognition and a full range of accommodation styles, South Africa is an excellent choice. Convenient access and a great value make it the perfect destination for those looking for a quick getaway, too.

We Know
BOTSWANA

Linyati red lechwe

Botswana delivers an unmatched safari experience from the thriving waterways of the Okavango Delta to the Kalahari Desert's ancient baobabs and meerkats, topped off by the Chobe National Park, where the elephant reigns supreme. Here you'll witness stunning landscapes, along with magnificent sunsets and amazing stargazing.

Botswana is considered by many to be the benchmark when it comes to sustainable ecotourism practice in Africa. The government's proactive low-volume tourism restrictions make it one of the most exclusive safari choices.

The Okavango, a UNESCO World Heritage site, is home to several endangered species, such as cheetahs, rhinoceros, African wild dogs and lions. These can be viewed on walks and on day and night game drives in open safari vehicles. For fantastic birding, explore the Okavango's endless waterways with your expert rangers by slow motorboat or being poled in a traditional mokoro (canoe). Look out for hippos, crocodiles and malachite kingfishers.

Moremi Game Reserve, which includes Chief's Island, boasts one of the richest and most diverse ecosystems in all of Africa. Arguably one of the best big game viewing areas, the reserve is known for its predators and plains animals, elephant and buffalo.

The wild and secluded Linyanti is famous for its huge concentrations of elephants in the dry season and big game year-round. The Savute Channel, which periodically floods and then dries up, is one of the area's great mysteries.

The Kalahari Desert region offers a unique contrasting experience. Here you will find incredible desert-adapted wildlife, including black-maned lions, brown hyenas and honey badgers. Far from any light pollution, this is one of the best places to enjoy clear and endless starry skies.

The Makgadikgadi Pans, once a huge prehistoric lake, is littered with stone tools and artifacts. Get up close to the curious meerkat or spend a morning with the Bushmen. During the wet season, the desert comes to life. Witness the last surviving zebra and wildebeest migration in southern Africa, closely followed by lions, cheetahs and other predators.

We Know
KENYA

Tree-climbing lion

Kenya has long been a top destination for safari seekers. Showcasing a wealth of wildlife, each ecologically diverse national park has its own allure. The private ranches and conservancies further expand the amount of land Kenya has dedicated to wildlife conservation and are often partnerships between the local Maasai landowners and private safari camps. The result is a destination that delivers meaningful and enriching cultural experiences as well as exclusive and spectacular wildlife viewing.

Kenya's many iconic geological features include Mount Kenya, the second-highest peak in Africa, and the Great Rift Valley, whose rivers, lakes and valleys provide homes for the region's wildlife.

The Maasai Mara is the most popular and renowned safari destination in Kenya, where huge herds of wildebeests travel across the plains during the annual Great Migration. This is one of the greatest spectacles in the natural world, making it the perfect "Out of Africa" experience. Taking a hot air balloon flight over the Mara is a bucket-list adventure that should not be missed.

Kenya's lakes are a bird lover's paradise. Lake Nakuru is best known for the massive flocks of flamingos that fringe its shores. The region is also a sanctuary for rhinos and leopards.

Discover the beauty of Amboseli, famous for its dramatic views of the snow-capped Mount Kilimanjaro and its large tusked elephants.

Lauded for its groundbreaking rhino rehabilitation efforts, Lewa Wildlife Conservancy is one of our absolute favorite places to visit. It offers an unforgettable combination of unspoiled beauty, superb game viewing and responsible tourism. Horse, camel and walking safaris are a few of the activities on offer at Lewa that provide a more intimate perspective of this region.

The arid Samburu is another northern gem stretching along the Ewaso Nyiro River. It is home to elephants and large predators such as lions, as well as the rare northern specialist species the Grevy's zebra, the Somali ostrich, the reticulated giraffe, the gerenuk and the beisa oryx.

Eastern Kenya is bordered by the warm Indian Ocean and white sandy beaches. Rich with aquatic life, it makes the perfect place to end an exciting safari and enjoy a bit of rest and relaxation.

Elephants at Lake Manyara National Park

Tanzania delivers an exceptional safari experience within its game parks and private reserves. The variety of scenery, activities and accommodation choice make it a destination with broad appeal.

Here, wildebeests and other ungulates stampede across the Serengeti plains during their annual migration. The vast grasslands are home to ostriches, elephants and large predators, such as lions, hyenas and cheetahs. Permanent tented camps, mobile tented camps and comfortable lodges make the perfect resting place for travelers as they explore the region.

Other must-visit destinations in Tanzania's northern circuit include Tarangire National Park, where baobabs dwarf the herds of elephants that feed beneath them and the park's permanent river serves as a lifeline for the Maasai people and local wildlife. Lake Manyara National Park boasts a diversity of habitats, from its alkaline lake to its dense forest. Another Tanzania highlight is to descend into the Ngorongoro Crater, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of the world's largest unbroken calderas.

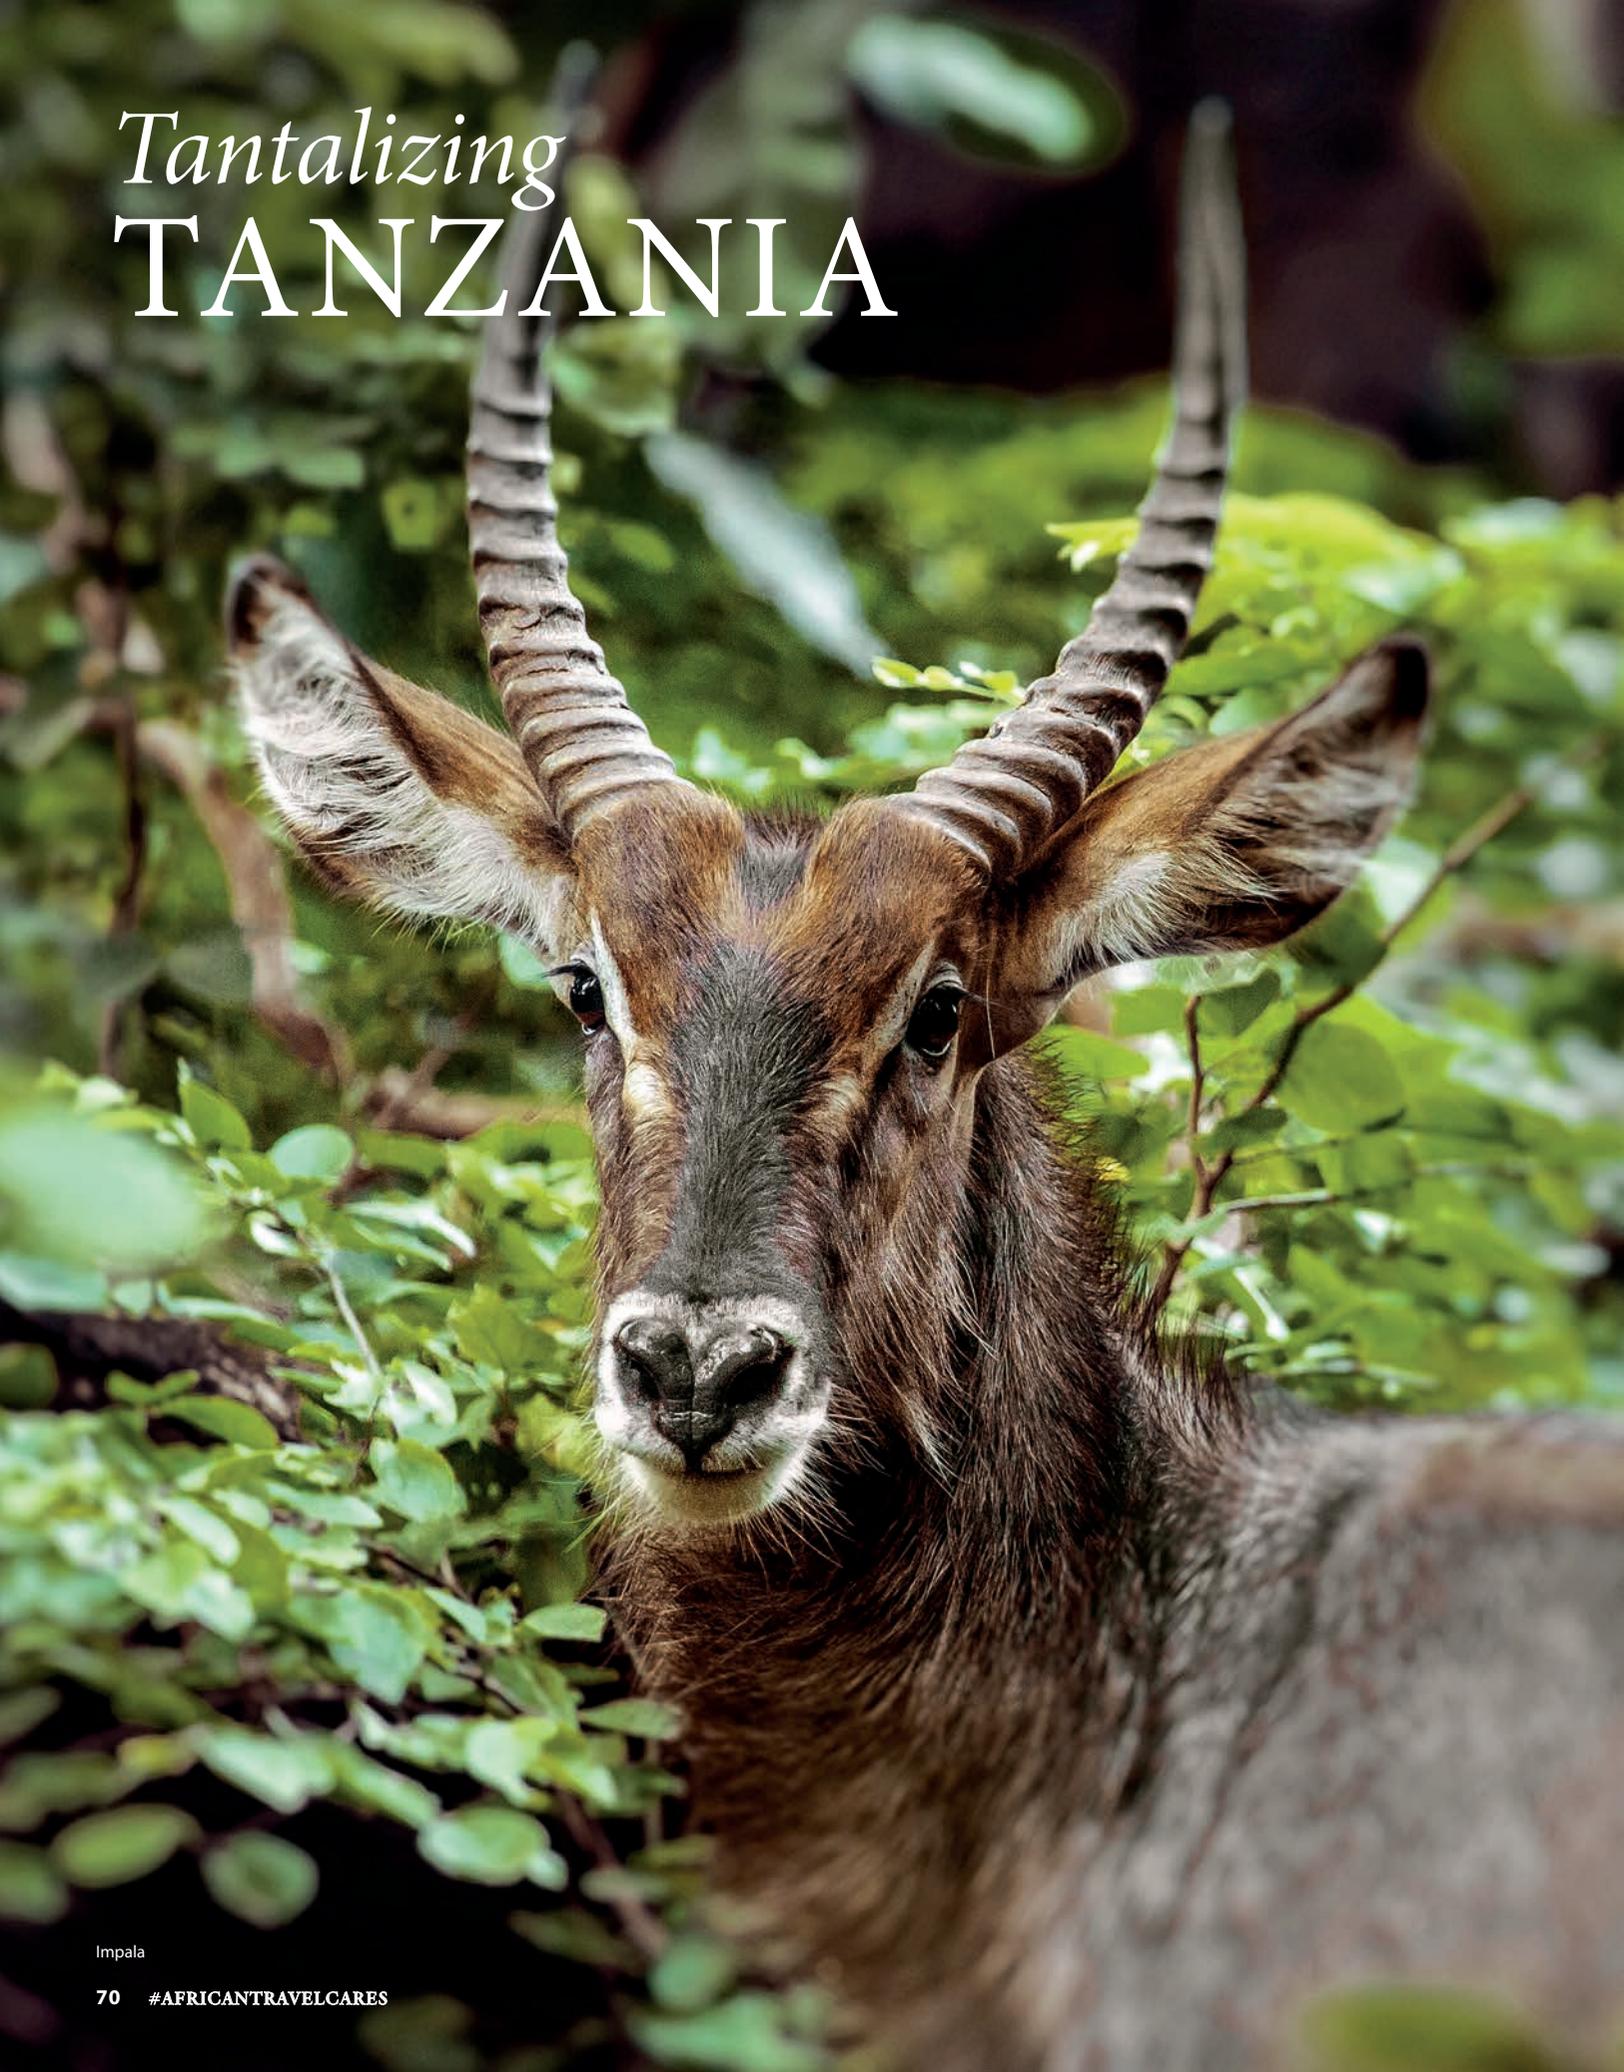

For those looking for the road less traveled, a visit to the wild Katavi National Park, which is home to Tanzania's largest population of crocodiles and hippos, gives definite bragging rights to any traveler. If primates are on your list, trek through the Mahale Mountains National Park in search of the endangered chimpanzees. This unique jungle location along the shore of Lake Tanganyika also offers kayak or dhow excursions and fishing. For those desiring a wild and rugged safari in an untouched land, Tanzania's Selous Game Reserve is the answer. One of Africa's largest game reserves, it is known for boat trips on the Rufiji River, walking safaris and very few tourists.

The people of Tanzania are warm and welcoming. Meet colorful Maasai warriors, hunt and gather with the Wahadzabe Bushmen and visit the Datoga, who are semi-nomadic pastoralists. Immerse yourself in local life, barter at local markets or spend a morning with exuberant schoolchildren.

Then, wrap up your journey with a beach getaway to the spice island of Zanzibar. A combination of extraordinary architecture, palm-fringed beaches and marine life makes this the perfect way to end your East African safari.

Regarded as one of the last true wildernesses, Zambia is probably southern Africa's best-kept secret. Home to the mighty Victoria Falls, it is the country's interior parks that will delight those seeking a more off-the-beaten-path safari. The intimate camps offer a highly personalized safari bush experience that keeps guests coming back time and time again.

The South Luangwa National Park is the place to experience the original walking safari, a "heart-thumping" way to get close to nature and feel her pulse. The Luangwa River and oxbow lagoons are home to hippos and crocodiles and frequently visited by elephants, Thornicroft giraffes and buffalo. This park is one of the best in Africa to view leopards in their natural environment.

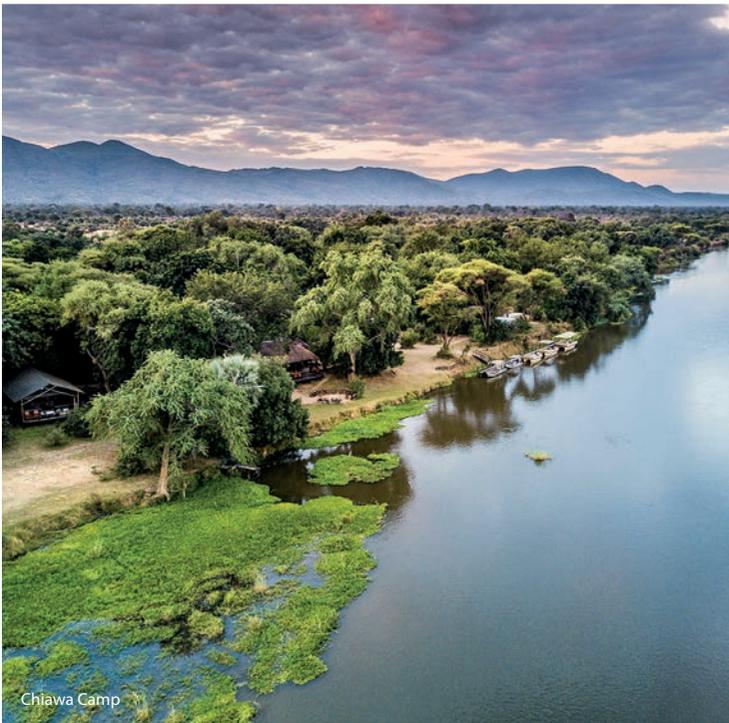

Kafue National Park offers a remote and exclusive safari experience. Game drives on the Busanga Plains in search of lions, puku and red lechwe can only be outdone by the option to take a hot air balloon safari and float quietly above the same great wilderness.

Another favorite is the Lower Zambezi National Park. Day and night game drives, walking safaris, canoe trips, river safaris, catch and release angling for tiger fish and time spent in photographic hides leave you wishing you had planned a longer stay.

An aerial photograph capturing the dramatic coastline of Namibia. The image shows a series of golden sand dunes that curve along the edge of a vibrant turquoise ocean. The dunes are illuminated by warm, low-angle light, creating deep shadows and bright highlights that emphasize their undulating forms. The ocean's surface is textured with white foam from breaking waves, contrasting sharply with the smooth, rippled sand. The overall composition is dynamic and visually striking, showcasing the natural beauty of the region.

We Know
NAMIBIA

Namibia is a place of great contrasts, characterized by vast open spaces, endless horizons and dramatic deserts. The country's rare plant species, magnificent wildlife and incredible night skies offer some of the most mesmerizing scenery in the world.

The Fish River Canyon in the south cuts an impressive 100-mile-long gorge into an otherwise flat landscape, while the iconic red sand dunes of Sossusvlei tower more than 900 feet above the surrounding plains. With its shimmering salt pans, Etosha National Park is Namibia's premier wildlife destination. Large herds of plains game concentrate around the waterholes in the dry season, while the summer rainfall welcomes abundant new life.

In the north, the haunting and evocative Skeleton Coast is known for its swirling mists and shipwreck strewn shorelines. The Kunene region, with its stark plains and ancient valleys, is one of the harshest environments on the planet. Here, the most reliable water source is the fog created by the cold Atlantic Ocean and warm air of the desert. Yet, this living desert thrives with life in all its unique and varied forms, from the bizarre Welwitschia plant and solitary oryx to the rare brown hyena and desert-adapted rhinos and elephants.

For a truly off-the-beaten-path experience, venture to the remote north, home to the statuesque Himba, one of the last true nomadic tribes on earth. Namibia's hidden treasures are for those who appreciate an unspoiled and authentic experience.

We Know RWANDA

One&Only Nyungwe House

Visiting Rwanda, “the land of a thousand hills,” is one of the great wildlife adventures on the planet. The welcoming people, rich landscapes and wildlife attractions make Rwanda an ideal addition to any African safari. Rwanda is mountainous, green and lush, and home to a variety of primates, more than 100 orchids and over 600 bird species — a paradise for bird watchers, conservationists and botanists alike.

The star attraction is the highly endangered mountain gorilla. An encounter with a silverback gorilla and his family can be a hair-raising experience and one you will likely never forget! Their human-like characteristics are fascinating, and to observe them grooming, foraging and nesting is a privilege. The young juveniles are playful and mischievous.

While the majority of tourism is focused on a visit to the Parc National des Volcans in the north, the nearby Lake Kivu offers a great place to unwind after a trekking adventure. For those with a bit more time, Nyungwe National Park offers a pristine mountain rainforest, which is home to habituated chimpanzees and other primate species.

It’s definitely time to put on your boots and visit Rwanda.

We Know MADAGASCAR

Lemurs

Sometimes called “the eighth continent” for its biodiversity, Madagascar is home to 5 percent of the world’s wildlife and vegetation, most of which are exclusive to the island. Madagascar’s unique flora and fauna are matched by epic landscapes of unbelievable diversity; just 200 miles can take you from desert to rainforest and everything in between.

Antananarivo is the colorful capital, with steep cobblestoned streets and beautiful colonial buildings. A journey through the interior of Madagascar takes you past terraced hillsides with fertile rice fields. Along the way, you’ll interact with the welcoming Malagasy going about daily life, working in the rice paddies, tending to their zebu cattle, riding ox wagons and walking along the dusty roads with their baskets balanced precariously on their heads.

Composed of two parts, the Andasibe Mantadia National Park is one of the most popular parks. The Analamazaotra is home to approximately 11 species of lemurs. However, the real attraction is the Indri, the largest lemur, whose haunting wail can be heard emanating throughout the forest. Mantadia is a bird watcher and botanist paradise with numerous waterfalls and wonderful landscapes.

Madagascar’s sights are endless. Explore the red iron oxide pinnacles of the Tsingy Rouge National Park and the Jurassic beauty of the desert canyon of Isalo National Park, where erosion has carved the sandstone into fantastic shapes. Discover dazzling beaches with some of the world’s best snorkeling and diving sites and watch the sun set in the Avenue of the Baobabs.

Travel through Madagascar often comes with delayed flights, dirt roads and basic accommodation, but all of this adds to its allure and charm. It is a wonderful destination for outdoor lovers and those who relish adventure.
